THE NATIONAL GRANGE.-The annual session of this organization meets to-day in Louisville, Ky. Dr. Columbus Mills, the President of the State Grange, and Mr. A. T. Mial, of this county, a member of the State Executive Committee and State Agent of the Grange Order, are in attendance, having left for Louisville on Saturday night.

"OLD NICK WILLIAMS."-Old times come back again. We were favored saturday with the presence in this office of Capt. Jos. Williams. and with that generous nature, inherited from his forefathers, the founders of Nick Williams whiskey, so famous in North Carolina as a pure article, he presented us with five gallons which he says even Ye Local can drink without harm. This firm are the oldest distillers in the State.

SOME TURNIPS.-We were shown yesterday a lot of turnips grown by Mr. J. H. Higgs, on his place near Wake Forrest College, which we consider some turnips. Two of them weighed 16 pounds and measured each 25 inches around. Mr. Higgs has an acre and a quarter in turnips and estimates that he has in the lot at present over 200 bushels, although he has been feeding his stock therefrom some six weeks. The turnips were grown on wheat land on which but 100 pounds of fertilizers to the acre were used.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE .- Mr. Chas. F. Reid, having moved to Wake Forest, offers for sale in another column his house and lot in Forestville, N. C. It is one of the best improved lots in that vicinity and would make a very pleasant and desirable country residence. It is distant from Raleigh only 15 miles by rail, the society of the village is excellent and its health proverbial. Parties desiring to invest would do well to communicate with Mr. Reid before day of sale.

C. N. Dixon, POLICE MATTERS .- His Honor yesterday and Sunday considered several cases of "drunk and down." Sunday is generally considered by certain classes as a day devoted to this pleasure, and the Mayor, considering it an unusual license and luxury, is certain to be more severe for the offense. Yesterday a young blood, for abusing the decorum of the Sabbath, was fined $10 and costs. Frank Roberts, for imbibling a little too much benzine and growing disorderly in consequence, was fined $5 and costs. Mary Watkins, a denizen of Rhamkatte, strayed into the prov ince of Mayor Manly and got drunk, for which offense she was kept in the guardhouse 24 hours and was forced to submit to a temperance lecture, after which she was bid to report back to Mayor Jonas Medlin for his consideration. Ben Kirkham, for give no pecuniary relief to those who violating the market ordinance, was fought and suffered to sustain this . fined $5 and costs.

A CONVENIENCE.—The Messrs Tucker have added to their dry-goods establishment, as a convenience to the public dealing with them, a poney express wagon to convey goods throughout the city. This is a decided improvement to the "lugging" business, and will prevent the recurrence of an incident such as we witnessed a number of years ago in another city, when a lady had a dray backed up to a dry goods store and had placed therein a spool of cotton.

SHERIFFS SECTLING.—The Sheriff of Lenoir yesterday paid into the State Treasury the sum of $5,39(.20); that of Alleghany the sum of $1 250,-57. and that of Richmond the sum of $5 301 52. In a few days the Sheriffs of the State will be crowding the Treasury with their loose change, as but two weeks now remain in which they can stay out in the cold. There is no Legislature this year to relieve the delinquents.

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE GEO. W. GRICE ... The Portsmouth Local in the Norfolk Virginian of Sunday morning says of the preparations for the interment of the late Major Grice, which was to take place on Sunday afternoon:

"The remains of the late Major George Washington Grice will be buried this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the church of his adoption, St. John's. The Rev. J. D. "Messrs. cott & Flemming, our well-known undertakers, have charge of the funeral arrangements. The body has been placed in a solid rosewood metalic lined casket of the costliest character, the top of which is half glass, so arranged that a full view of the body can be obtained without disturbing the remains. The their teachers, will attend in a body to the grave in the city cemetery."

EVIDENTLY MISINFORMED. - A

gentleman writing from Onslow county, who was a soldier in the Confederate service during the entire conflct between the States and who has been afflicted ever since the war from diseases contracted while in the service of his State and of the South, writes to know how he can obtain money which he has been told is in the State Treasury for ex-soldiers who had been rendered unfit to work. We are sorry to inform this soldier that he has been misinformed; for however willing North Carolina, through her Legislature, might be to give aid to those who gallantly donned the gray and "fought for a cause they could not save" in defense of the State and of the South, and who were by this service rendered unfit to work for a livelihood, her impoverished condition, brought about by the natural results of that war and by the thieving and dishonesty of those in whose hands her government for a number of years were unfortunately placed, renders it utterly impossible for her to do so. However hard the cross of suffering may be to bear by individuals thus afflicted, it must be endured until North Carolina is placed in a better condition than she is in to-day or has been in since the close of that conflict of arms. The Federal government will only care for its own soldiers, and the South having lost all save honor, she can

[For the Daily News. Wilmington During Fair Week-The Reunion of the Survivors of Fort Finher-The Military, and Other Matters.

[In addition to what we have already published concerning affairs in Wilmington last week, the subjoined correspondence will be found of interest.-ED. NEWs.]

Messrs. Editors:—During the past week your correspondent had the pleasure of visiting the city of Wil-mington, and participated in all the ceremonies and enjoyments of "Fair Week" in that time-honored old

One of the most pleasing features of the Fair was the parade of the visit-ing military, as well as the two com-panies from Wilmington. These companies composed the "City Guards" of Norfolk, Raleigh Light Intantry, Wilmington Light Infanry and Wilmington Light Artillery, and I can assure you that fluer bodies of citizen soldiery cannot be found on the American Continent. The drilling of all these companies was ex-cellent, and though our company bore off the flag in the competition drill which eusued, still they found in the Norfolk and Wilmington boys foemen worthy of their steel."

Another feature was the assembling of the "Survivors of Fort Fisher and other defenders of the Cape Fear." It was indeed a soul-inspir-ing sight to see these battle-tried veterans once more fall into line and step forward at the word of command, keeping time to that dearest of all martial strains, "Dixie." And then, to listen to the words of welcome of Wilmington's gallant son, Maj. D. J. Devane, made the heart of every old soldier present thrill with pride, as the eloquent orator portray-ed in vivid colors the deeds performed by those who were the Grey in days past, never to return. And as the chivalrous Virginian, Col. Lamb, in reply, time and again alluded to the gallantry of the North Carlinians who were present with him at the ever memorable de-fense of Fisher, we almost felt, aye, eyen wished that we were again following the "old flag" which has been furled forever. Would that every Carolinian in our glorious Old State could have heard those glowing ributes as they fell in tones of impassioned eloquence from the lips of Virginia's glfted son, and we feel sure they would join us in asking God's blessing upon him and his, in return beautifully, for our future welfare and greatness. Aye, God bless thee, noble Lamb, for so long as your gallant de-fence is recollected (and it is immortal) will your name be a househole word at every fireside in the "Old

North State.' But, Mr. Editor, your paper in common with others, has already published detailed accounts of the ceremonies upon this memorable occasion, and I will not dwell longer upon the pleasing theme. What I wish to call your attention to more particularly is the unbounded ho itality with which the good people of Wilmington received their visitors. Never before has it been our fortun to witness such disinterested hospitality on the part of any people. whole population seemed, as one man, to vie with each other in trying to make the visit of every individual as pleasurable as possible. And they succeeded most admirably. In this respect, I would state that the "Cape Fear Club" were particularly solicitopen their suite of rooms for the free ase of all visitors, and furnishing everything that was good for the inner man. To Mr. Keith, President of the Club, and to Messrs, Kerchner, C. D. Myers, Vick and a number of other members of the Club, your corres-pondent was indebted for many couresies extended him, and for which ne returns his sincere thanks.

The ball at the Opera House on Friday night was a most splendid affair. Over a hundred couples were to be seen dancing in the spacious room at a time. The ladies were handsomely and beautifully dressed, and were very lovely; and the gentlemen were also handsomely dress ed, but not altogether so lovely. The supper was all that the heart of man could wish, and the ball was in every respect a very decided improvement on anything of the kind we have seen since the "late unpleasantn

"In the suit of Horatio G. Onderdonk against the Carolina Central Railway Company an attachment against all the property of the company to be found in this State was granted Wednesday by Judge Barnard, of the New York supremental the company beying default court, the company having default-ed in paying the interest on $143,000 of its bonds held by the plaintiff."

----Pinchback, who claims the vacant seat in the United States Senate, has written to several Senators in Washington urging that his case be dis-posed of early in December, and pre-dicts that if it is not the Democrats who have a majority of three on joint pallot in the Legislature, will elect a Senator as soon as they meet in January.

Here is a sensible position: "The Democrats can sweep the country with just such another tidal wave, as we had last fall, if they will only drop the currency question, and stick to the winning question." So says the Atlanta Herald.

Out of sheer pity for Spain our Government should recognize Cuban independence, and thus close the bloody strife, for in a few years longer the Cubans will have killed the Spaniards all off unless something is done to prevent them.—Washington Republican, Grant's Organ, FARMING INTERESTS. Manure Making.

Farmers who expect to thrive must learn the habitual art of manure making. An exchange says:

The farmer who has a plenty of stock will find manure making both simple and easy. For the land there is nothing better than good barnyard manure. But in cases where there is not stock enough on the place to yield a full supply, it is best to resort to composts. And it is best to get at the business of compositing without further delay—go at it now. True, you may be very busy with your crop, but you can certainly eatch time enough to start a compost his port wo. Dig out a slight post heap or two. Dig out a slight concave in the earth, near the barn or stable, throw a few odds and ends into it, with the loose manure lying about, and the heap is started. Then, from that day on, cast all your refuse rubbish, such as green weeds, rotten vegetables, rotten fruits and the like, upon the pile. Order your women folks to give it all the kitchen slops and soap suds. If it gets to smelling badly, throw on a little finely pulverized earth—dry swamp muck is better, if you have it, but it not, earth will answer.

Thus gather into your pile what you can through the summer—when falls comes on, go to the woods with your wagon, if you live in a woods country, and haul leaves and throw them into your stable and into your cow lots. If you don't live in a woods country, you may substitute straw and grass for the leaves. Let your stock tramp it all under foot, and mix it with their manure until pretty well cut up, then away with it, all together, to your compost heap, and down with a new supply of straw or leaves. Keep the work up at odd spells, and when early spring comes, hand and spread upon your lead when haul and spread upon your land what you have accummlated, and turn it under at the breaking. Don't be afraid of getting your land too rich, and don't for a moment think that what you are doing will be labor lost, even though you do happen to have a soil that is reasonably productive, naturally. It might feed you now, but unless you feed it, the time will come when it will refuse to feed you or your children. And it will pay you a good return for feeding it, now. Not long since and old gentleman cultivating a Mississippi bottom farm in St. Charles county, Missouri, told the writer of this article that he manured his rich lands every season, and found it to pay better than any other work done on his place. There is said to be carried off from the soil nine pounds of lime in twen-ty-five bushels of wheat; nine pounds in fifty bushels of oats, and fifteen pounds in thirty-eight bushels of barley. There are thirty-five pounds of lime in two tons of rye-grass; en hundred and twenty-six pounds in two tons of clover, and one hundred and forty pounds in twenty-five tons of turnips, and two hundred and seventy pounds in nine tons of potatoes. Some soils contain abundance of lime for a thousand years, while other soils require an occasional application of lime as a fertilizer.

SCAB IN SHEEP .- Take of pure crystal of carbolic acid, one part, dis-solve in ten parts of alcohol, stir this into thirty parts of soft water, wash the sheep thoroughly with strong soapsuds, and then apply the liquid solution of acid, rubbing it in well. If the first application is not sufficient, repeat, and whitewash all places where the sheep may be liable o come in contact with whitewash in which the carbolic acid solution is mixed.

The Reunion at Fort Fisher. The Richmond Enquirer editorially thus speaks of the reunion of the survivors of Fort Fisher last week "The defence of Fort Fisher, near the mouth of Cape Fear river, and the battles fought in and about it, were among the most heroic actions of the war, and deserve a bright page in the history of the late struggle. There were few more gallants deeds than the defence of the fort when finally invested by land and sea, and simultaneously assaulted by the army and navy. And there are few in-stances rendered where more heroism was displayed than was exhibited on both sides. It was literally a battle in which they met foot to foot, and the ground was contested inch by inch. These events have just been cel ed by a reunion of the surviving Confederates of North Carolina and Virginia who took part in that gal-lant action. Colonel Will Lamb, of Norfolk, the surviving commander, and the real hero of Fort Fisher, was present as master of ceremonies on the occasion. This meeting took place at the Opera-House in Wilmington, on Thursday last, and was attended by about sixty of the veterans. The City Guard from Norfolk was present and participated, acting as the military escort of the procession. We have not space for all the pleasant and proper things

The Governor of Florida is charged with having released an indicted scoundrel named Le Cain, who had been arrested for forgery, embezzlement and other crimes, in order that he might organize the Republican party in Marion county.

In California sinners were again warned to repent by an earthquake on the 27th inst. A decided oscillation in stocks occurred on the same day, as everybody tried hard to shove off all their fancy articles.

It is charged that a few of the Radical leaders in Alabama are organizing the negroes in opposition to the new Constitution. Right in the face of the fact that Moody and Sankey are striving to turn the sinners of Brooklyn and New York from the broad road that leads to destruction, the authorities propose to raise Hell Gate with 50,oo pounds of nitro-glycerine. Closing Hell's gate by prayer and opening it with nitro-glycerine! Whew! But then, the people of New York are capable of doing most anything.

In the face of the many disasters now occurring at sea, "Life on the ocean wave" is not a pleasant existence at present.

THE WAY THEY DO IT.

Chandler, the new Secretary or the Interior, is putting into practice some of his old theories, upon the efficacy of a little bloodletting. He has put the official guillotine at work to slice off the heads of such of his subordinates as have manifested want of zeal for the party, or who have been backward in the payment of political assessments for the last campaign. Such fellows cannot be trusted for the more important campaign ahead. These Radicals know how to keep their men up to the work. They tolerate no laggards, and exact a contribution from every follower.

This is the principle acted upon in the secret circular of the Radicals in this State last summer, and an assessment was levied upon every man holding office. In this way, together with some droppings from Washington, they were enabled to be so liberal in the dissemination of documents, and in bringing conviction to the minds of the doubting. The Democrats will find it wise to imitate the liberality of the Radicals without resorting to a system which recognizes office-holders as the born thralls of party.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AGAIN.

The session of Congress being close at hand, it appears that "Col." Tom Scott is becoming more active in his assaults upon the virtue or intelligence of Southern members of Congress, and will also use his influence upon such State Legislatures as may be in session. Our own Legislature not being in session he has nothing to work upon in that way. But we would remind our members of Congress who will no doubt be approached, of the cold favor extended to the scheme by the Legislature last winter, and warn them that any countenance given to Scott's scheme is against the voice of the representatives of the people and hostile to the best interests of the whole South.

The Petersburg Index and Appeal has a long, lucid and forcible article, reviewing the whole scheme, and exposing all its fallacies as a Southern enterprise, which we have not yet had room for in our columns It ought to be republished in every journal in the South, for though intended for the warning and guidance of Virginia, its reasoning is applicable to every other Southern State, all of whom must make common cause in the matter.

The Richmond Whig in its comments upon the communication referred to, says, "it is a snare that had better be avoided. It is worse than a wolf in sheep's clothing. It is an adder coiled in the hand that is held out to us, a serpent we are asked to warm in our bosoms-a deadly serpent under the roses that strew the feast to which we are invited." Beware of it.

DOGS AND SHEEP.

We published in the agricultural column a few days ago a report of the Agricultural Society of Georgia on the progress (!) of sheep husbandry in that State, a report which ought to set men to thinking. It appears that since 1870 the number of sheep in that State has diminished 30 per cent, and the decrease is steady, and in a few years the industry will have become extinct. What is true of Georgia, is true of North Carolina. For the sake of the worthless cars that infest the

every negro in the land, really one of the most profitable, most manageable, and least expensive of the animals of the farm is suffered to become extinct without one solitary equivalent, and with only the decidedly negative pleasures of indulging attachments which men form to their worthless dogs. It is demonstrated beyond a doubt that sheep can be raised more cheapy in the South than any where else, because, except to be protected from dogs, they require no care whatever. By their natural increase they pay more than fifty per cent. annually on their value. By their fleeces, they add 25 per cent, more. They furnish the cheapest and most nutritious of animal food, they give us the best and warmest of all material for clothing. Their merits are all positive, and their profits are all assured.

The population of North Carolina is now not far from 1,200,000. Allowing a dog for every four of the people, there will be three hundred thousand dogs-a very moderate estimate. Each dog will cost not less than five dollars for his annual support. Here is the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars worse than wasted. It is spent in the support of a curse to the Sausberry, indicted for killing Calbather in 1864, acquitted. HUDSON, N. Y. Nov. 13.—Eliza A. Stone, for poisoning her husband, has been acquitted. Dan!. G. Bosworth, indicted as accessary, nolle prosequeled.

It is a difficult subject to contend against, bowever. Men have their fancies and their affections and they run uncommonly strong in the dog line. It is only when they bring it to the test, and view it as a question of political economy, that they will take a national view of the subject. The South is poor under the results of the war, the loss of slave property, and the pillage and heavy taxations of oppression and dishonest government. She can never recover unless she avails herself intelligently of all ber resources, and until she has learned to economize and stop all useless drains.

The grangers, farmers themselves, and friendly to the true interests of the State, must take this matter in hand. Let them urge the imposition of a tax which, if the dog owner will still protect and preserve his pets, will bring a handsome revenue to the State. If he gives them up rather than pay the tax, then a monstrous nusiance will be abated, sheep will multiply and thrive, and the immense sum wasted for the feeding of dogs will be applied to better purposes. And the tax raised from this source should be applied to the school fund, or the charitable institutions, enlarging the means of education, or lightening still more the burdens of misfortune.

AFTER THE ELECTIONS.

The opinion expressed in this paper some time since that in the late elections the results were not such as to justify the overstrained exultation of the Republicans or unduly depress the Democrats, is daily receiving fresh confirmation. Of course we are compelled to rely upon the opinions of those in a position to judge with some approximation to accuracy, rather than trust to our own conclusions except upon a theatre nearer at home.

The New York Tribune, Republican, though liberal and opposed to the administration, is yet not so liberal as to wish the success of the Democrats if it could see its own party deserving of success. It still clings to that hope. We can therefore acquit it of any bias of partiality when it presents a summary of the results of the election which may be taken either as a warning to the Republican party, or encouragement to the Democrats.

Taking a few of the most important States in detail, the Tribune shows from official tables that in the elections of 1871, the Republicans of Massachusetts had a majority of 13,465 over all candidates for Governor, (there were five,) while in 1875, for the same office, and with the same number of candidates, they were in the minority by 5,807.

In New York in 1871, the Republicans had 18,907 for Secretary of State, while for the same office in 1875, they are in a minority of upwards of 15,000. And the Tribune says 25,000 did not vote at the late election. Is it not quite as possible that these may vote next year with the Democrats as with the Republi-

In Pennsylvania in 1871, the Republicans had a small majority outside of Philadelphia. This year they have not.

In Iowa the plurality for Governor Kirkwood is 10,000 less than the Republican majorities of 1871. In Ohio the Republicans have less

These are the comparisons of the Tribune, and we rely upon their accuracy. They show conclusively that though the Republicans have apparently regained some of their losses, yet they do not exhibit the strength they had four years ago. And the whole vote in all these States shows that there is a large force in reserve which could not be brought out on questions which in several of them were local and had in some no connection with National politics. In the Presidential election nearly every man will cast his ballot, and there is just as good reason to expect that these reserve forces will act with the Democrats as with the Republicans-more so a fact, since it is more than probable that under the free use of money, and the necessity of creating some prestige for the administration, every Republican vote was brought out, while the laggards were mainly INVESTIGATION into the probable cause of the terrible loss of life resulting from the recent burning of the steamer Waco off Galveston has developed the fact that coasting vessels are not compelled to leave with Shipping Commissioners their shipping list, and as a consequence many of them are insufficiently supplied with men to man the vessels in case of danger. Commissioner Duncan, of New York, has no information in regard to the crew of the Waco. Says this official:

"In order to save a few hundred dollars owners often send their vessels out with insufficient crews, and in an emergency, as there is not force enough to work the ship, to man the boats, or to extinguish the fire that threatens to destroy the craft and all board, there is but little hopes of saving either life or property. Not long a steamer of more than 1,200 tons left the port of Bermuda with a large number of passengers. Her actual crew consisted of three seamen. who, with a captain and two mates, and perhaps a carpenter-seven men in all-were expected to bring the vessel safely into port. Had a storm arisen in which the steamer had been in danger of going down, how could the passengers have been saved? The reduction of a steamer's crew to three men means that in rough weather they are to do the work of five times their number, and that to save money the lives of passengers are to be en-dangered. It is not always the masters who are to blame for this. It is generally the ship owners, blind-to everything but their own interests, and oftentimes blind also to them."

The Commander of the Pacific. The Richmond Enquirer speaking of the recent loss of the steamer Pacific, while on her voyage from Portland, Oregon, to San Francisco, and the loss of every life on board the illfated vessel except two, says:

The commander of the Pacific, we iches, was Captain Jefferson Howeli, the youngest broth-er of Mrs. Jefferson Davis. When our civil war began Captain Howell, who was then a very young man, was a clerk in the New Orleans Postoffice, but when the Confederate cruiser Sumter was fitted out he received a lieutenant's commission, and, we believe, followed the fortunes of Admiral Semmes, both on that vessel and on the Alabama to the close of her career. He had another and older brother, Joseph How ell, who was with Col. Davis in the first Mississippi Rifles at the battle of Buena Vista, and commanded one of the Montgomery fleet gun-bonts in the engagement in front of Mem-phis in this war. Both brothers were allant soldiers and finished gentlemen. The death of the younger, now reported, will be gloomy tidings to a host of friends, relatives and admirers of this youthful commander in the South. He was a native o Mississippi, where his father resided up to the close of the war, dying a few months after its termination.

The Downward Road to Ruin-A Young Woman Commits Suicide.

The funeral of "Mingee" Roane, who committed suicide in New York one day tlast week, took place at an undertaker's in that city on Thursday morning. A Richmond correspondent says of the unfortunate wo-

"Minnie Roane, the young girl, who in a freak of passion with her lover killed herself in New York, for everal years resided in Richmond. She was born in King William couny, of the most respectable parents. Indeed, her family was one of the highest in Eastern Virginia, and her ancestors held some of the most exalted positions in the gift of the people of Virginia. She and her sister, about four or five years ago, left their comfortable home in the country and came to Richmond and started upon the road to ruin. An uncle of theirs living here receiving intelligence of their whereabouts soon induced them to return bome. Back again to Richmond they came in a little while. They loved sin, and no persuasions, entreaties or tears could turn them from their course. They were beautiful and accomplished Both are now dead-both committed

The Baptist State Convention. The Charlotte Observer of Sunday says of the North Carolina Baptist Convention, which was in session at Shelby last week: This body, which met at Shelby on Wednesday last, was to have adjourned last night, but by way of fially closing its labors, a grand Sunday School meeting will be held this evening. A large number of the members left on yesterday, and several are stopping over in this city at present. We learn from one of the ministers, that the attendance was anusually large, and that the meeting was most pleasant. Some excel-lent addresses were delivered during the sitting of the Convention, and a considerable amount of money was raised for different purposes Judge Kerr was the Moderator of the Con-vention, and presided with great ac-ceptability. The members are profuse in their praises of the hospitality of the people of Shelby.

country and hang at the heels of to spare by 15,000 than they had in The Result of the Mississippi Blee The New York Sun thus speaks of the result of the Mississippi election: The sweeping victory achieved in Mississippi by the Democratic Conservatives, as the opponents of Grant-ism in that State call themselves, will give that party the choice of a Senator to succeed Gov. Alcorn, whose term expires on March 3, 1877. It is gratifying to know that Congressman L. Q. C. Lamar, whose moderate and judicious counsels had an important effect upon the conduct of the recent canvass, has been re-elected by an overwhelming majority. Mr. Lamar is one of the ablest and most patriotic men in the South. A new R peresentative, Mr. Singleton, who was elected from the Fourth District, is also likely to give a good account of himself in the new House. He is a prominent lawyer, and, though he was a member of the Confederate Congress, since the war has favored a moderate and conservative policy, has been a strong advocate of the rights of the negroes under the Con-stitutional Amendments, and enjoys the esteem-of both whites and blacks The success of the Opposition in Mississippi is due to the fact that disregarding all other issues, the friends of honest government concentrated their energies upon the one point of overthrowing the instruments of fraud and corruption, leaving minor points to be settled hereafter. In short, the Democrats, old Whigs, and of the Democratic party. honest Republicans united in making a fight against the corrupt system known as Radicalism in Mississippi, and as Grantism in the Northe It is something to preach three or four times every week, as Brother Moody does. It would be impossible for him to do so if his sermons were in the grand oratorical style. But his preaching is of the very simplest and plainest kind ; he merely "talks" on some religious doctrine or passage of Scripture. Yet he produces effects such as the highest eloquence and greatest intellectual power have rare ly ever produced; and he attracts multitudes such as never before listened to any preacher in this coun try .- N. An old lady residing in Ohio lost the companion with whom she had jogged for many years. She neglected to mark the spot of his burial by even a stone. MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Report of the Agricultural Department.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.— The official cotton crop report for November makes a direct comparison of the product of this year with that of 1874. As former reports of condition have indicated, the States bordering on the Atlantic all show a reduced product, and those in the Mississippi valley an increased yield. Prior to Nov. 1st, killing frosts had appeared in the more Northern States of the cotton belt, in some counties of porthern Georgia, and in the disof northern Georgia and in the district north of the Tennessee River in Alabama. Elsewhere the cotton ant was uninjured, and generally in vigorous growth on the best lands

In one Parish in Louisiana, Claiborne, it is claimed that a week's continuance of fine. weather would increase the local yield several hund red bales.

There is much inequality in the progress of picking. In some coun-tles of Georgia and Alabama the harvest is nearly over. In Mississippi the work has been delayed by political difficulties and by sickness; in Washington county two-thirds of the crop was ungathered, and it was feared that Christmas would find one-Fine weather has been the rule disastrous than was at first represent-The amount of lint in comparison with weight of seed cotton is quite reliable, ranging from twenty-five to thirty-three per cent., but so far as reported appears to be less than in 1874. The State per centages representing the aggregate quantity as compared with last year are as follows: North Carolina 91, South Carolina 76, Georgia 74, Florida 90; Alabama 102, Mississippi 111, Louisiana 100, Texas 114, Arkansas 135, Tennessee 116. The crop of Arkansas is a good one, but the figures are increased more by the fact of last year's poor yield than by the excess of this year's crop. These figures point to a small advance upon last year's aggregate, if November and December should be fayorable to the opening and picking of the top crop.

STRONACH, No. 4 Martin street and Market Square, no 9 This percentage of surplus returned is much greater than that of any other company, and more than twice that of several leading ones. It is the legitimate and inevitable result of care in the selection of risks and high rate of interest received from well-invested assets. As the actual cost of the inserance to the policy-holder is regulated, not by the table rate charged, but by the amount the Company is able to save and return to him from the premium paid, this latter item is of the greatest importance. Manifestly the company which is able to return to its policy holders the most surplus premiums, furnishes the insurance at the lowest cost. And this, the history of its policies shows the Connecticut Mutnal is actually doing. GILL'S LIERARY OF SELECT By Eminent Authors.

This Company is purely mutual. No stockholders to absorb profits. Every tolley holder is a member of the Company entitled to all its advantages and privileges, having a vote at the annual election for Trustees. It is the casiest Company to work because it gives satisfaction to its patrons, for the reason that it has declared MORE DIVIDENDS IN NUMBER and of a LARGER AVERAGE PERCENTAGE than any Company in the United States. Official reports show this. For example: Policy 16, for $5 000, has been paid to the wildow of a Philadelphia merchant, upon which twenty-threedividends had been declared, averaging (57) fifty-seven per cent. This Policy, at the end of 22 yes. S, had the ofvidends been used to purchase additional insurance, would have been worth $11 006. Any reliable agent who wants to work for this Company will address.
